

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This report was possible because of the efforts and good will of many people who are dedicated to the protection of water quality in North Carolina. The authors extend their sincere appreciation to all those who provided information, insights, or documents and who reviewed various chapters of the report in their draft stages. These individuals are too numerous to name in full, but include Barry Adams, Trevor Clements, John Dorney, Preston Howard, Caroline McCaskill, Beth McGee, and Roger Thorpe, DEM; Steve Berkowitz and Steve Steinbeck, DEH; George Matthis and Preston Pate, DCM; Jim Cummings, Pat Hooper, and Steve Leonard, DSWC; Craig Deal, DLR; Elizabeth Noble and Don Freeman, DMF; Spencer Rogers of the N.C. Seagrass Program; Susan Rollins and Lee Pelej, EPA Region IV; Wilson Laney of the U.S. FWS; Wayne Wright, U.S. ACOE; Mike Hoover and Robert Rubin, NC State Univ.; Ray Burby and Bob Patterson, UNC, Chapel Hill; Jim Kennedy, N.C. Coastal Federation; Doug Rader, N.C. EDF; Ken Stewart, N.C. Alliance for Balanced Coastal Development; Kevin Martin, Soil & Environmental Consultants; Thomas Kagarise, Durham County; and Cindy Finan, Wake County.

We offer special thanks to Robert Holman, Director of the Albemarle-Pamlico Study, for his support throughout the project, and his tolerance of several missed deadlines in the pursuit of a better product.
